

ECMA-37, Supplementary Transmission Control Functions (An Extension of the Basic Mode Control Procedures for Data Communication Systems)

SCOPE

This Standard is an optional extension of Standard ECMA-16 on Basic Mode Control Procedure for Data Communication Systems.

It encompasses also formatting rules defined in Standard ECMA-24 on Code Independent Information Transfer.

It defines the method for providing supplementary transmission control functions through the definition of Extension Sequences using DLE.